There's no mystery involved in choosing a Construction Designer

There's no mystery involved in choosing a Construction Designer. You see a house, office or building you like, ask the owners who designed it for them, and go from there.

We consult and follow through with many designs that have a pleasant livable flow, bold cohesive colors and innovative detail, such as handsome window treatments, hand painted murals or stenciling or built in media centers and bookcases.

Why hire a Construction Designer? To save your valuable time and to get expert direction in building sources and companies to do the job.

With an initial consultation, you can get answers to some of your first concerns. How much will it cost? –Will I have to do it all at once? –Where are the best local places to go to complete the project?

We document all ideas and give a written estimate and contract for everything that we do. We work within your budget and believe it is in our best interest to make sure that your money goes the furthest. After all, our business comes from your referrals!
